Know the Ground before You Break It.

Business banking and wealth management built for the way you build.

Every smart build starts with knowing the ground—the market, the timing, the risk. With more than a century of local experience, Orange Bank & Trust helps construction and trade businesses make informed decisions before they move.

From cash management and equipment financing to advanced technology and fraud protection, our bankers are out in the field, working to keep your operation strong and moving forward.

And when the work pays off, Orange Wealth Management helps you protect what you've built—planning for retirement, safeguarding assets, and leaving a legacy, all with the personal service you expect.

Over a Century of Building the Future Together.

As a Council of Industry member for over 100 years, James L. Taylor Manufacturing exemplifies how community connection, shared experience, and long-term support help drive growth.

Since 1910, the Council of Industry has advanced manufacturing excellence through workforce development, advocacy, and peer collaboration, bringing manufacturers together to strengthen their businesses. As the leading manufacturers' association in Southeastern New York, we represent over 160 companies committed to growing and moving the Mid-Hudson region forward.
